Faculty Governance

(Adopted August 2014; Amended October 2018)

Dean

The dean is the chief administrative and academic officer of the college and reports to the Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs. The dean is assisted by associate deans, and chairs or directors of the academic, research and service units in the college to advance the college's mission in teaching, research and service. In the spirit of shared governance, the dean also consults faculty and staff committees, and faculty and staff as appropriate, on matters related to the college operations that include planning, coordination and evaluation of all college units.

Appropriate groups of college-level committees are defined herein. Each academic department or school will follow the college examples and define the memberships of its committees and the voting right on departmental or school matters. For departmental or school level promotion and tenure (P&T) committees, the committee membership consists of only tenured faculty at the rank of promotion or higher. For departmental or school promotion committees of non-tenure-track faculty (i.e., professional, research or clinical track) the committee membership consists of tenured faculty and appropriate non-tenure track faculty at the rank of promotion or higher.

Voting Rights

On motions of general matter in nature that are brought up at the college meeting, faculty holding full-time employment in the college have voting rights on the motion. On motions of specific matter, an appropriate faculty group consists of faculty who are eligible to serve on the matter governed by the respective committee is defined as the voting body. All motions shall be in compliance with the University and TAMUS policies.
